Winter Weather... what to do?

Hello Beautiful!

From all the pictures I have seen on social media and the weather channel, it looks like most everyone is experiencing some crazy winter weather this week! The snow here in East Tennessee is beautiful! Of course, living in the south, this means everything is closed down! No school all week here!

So if you are looking for something to do while snowed in and one of your resolutions was to get that closet in order, I am giving you the steps to get started!

It is also a good time to go through all your beauty products and clean those out too. Here is something to help you do just that!

Stay warm and get a lot accomplished while enjoying the beautiful scenery from your neck of the woods. I know what I will be doing - thinking about the fact that it is only 56 days until SPRING!!!

I hope you enjoy that feeling of having a well-organized closet with just the perfect items for your coloring and body shape in it! If you don't know what your color code or body shape is and aren't sure what the best things are to keep to help you look fabulous, contact me for your very own Personal Style Analysis!

And speaking of Spring, I would love to be your guest speaker at any event your church or organization may be planning!

I was honored to be a guest on Atlanta Live a couple of weeks ago. If you would like to watch here, click on the picture! My interview starts at the :32 minute mark!

*From a heart filled with grace and veins filled with glitter,
Donna*

P.S. I am currently booking speaking engagements for 2025!

If your church or professional organization is looking for a speaker, I would love to be a part of your next event! Email or call 865.599.6682
