Proverbs 31:25

Inspiring women to develop an outward style to reveal their inner beauty!

Hello Beautiful Friend!

I realized the other day it has now been 15 years that I have been blessed to do what I do! WOW! What a ride it has been! I know I have so many new people who have recently signed up to receive my newsletter that may not know my story so I thought I would share a little bit of it today.

After 20 plus years in the corporate world, I found myself without a job (another story for another time). I had been comfortable in the secure job of healthcare, and it provided a means of income and insurance while I was a single mom and then married a man who was building a business of his own. I loved the people I worked with while I was there and developed life-long friends. However, I no longer felt I was where God wanted me to be. In February of 2011, I took a huge leap of faith and a major act of obedience to follow what I felt God was leading me to do. After being in a very difficult marriage and then being a single mom for 12 years I had done what I needed to survive and provide. I continued in my career after I married the love of my life, but I always knew God had called me for a stronger purpose.

I have always had a passion to encourage women to never give up hope and to rely on the strength that only God can give. I had been an example of going through some difficult situations and overcoming by only the grace of God. I found out about Shari Braendel, who was a speaker and author on Fashion and Faith. I was intrigued so I googled her and then picked up the phone and called her. She answered and we spoke for over an hour. She was just starting to train Image Consultants in Color Analysis, Body Shape Analysis and so much more and now owns Style By Color Training Academy. After much prayer and consideration, I felt this was what I was supposed to do. I knew this would give me a platform to reach women and enlarge my territory (just like the prayer of Jabez I had prayed so often). I finally had the courage to follow through with what I knew God had called me to do.

I had wanted a billboard, an email, a text or something to assure me I was making the right decision, but the Holy Spirit spoke stronger in my heart than any sign I could ask for! Have you ever had the feeling you were supposed to be doing something stronger than you could imagine? Have you come up with excuses on why "that just wouldn't work for you" or felt you "weren't qualified"? That was me!
God doesn't call the qualified - He qualifies those He calls.

Here I am 15 years later getting to do things I love and hopefully glorifying God in everything I do. I am certified in Color & Style Analysis and give practical tips for dressing specific body shapes, choosing the best colors, and accessorizing for frame size and personality styles. I love working with women on the importance of appearance and the role it plays in defining who you are and what you want to represent. My goal is to help you feel confident in who you are and who you were created to be and learn to love the woman in your mirror!

Over the past 15 years I have been blessed to be a featured speaker at so many women's Christian events and retreats as well as business professional seminars and workshops. I have appeared on radio and TV and am a Fashion & Style writer for an online magazine. I have been beyond blessed meeting all the amazing women God has placed in my path!! God added another test to my testimony 5 years ago when during a worldwide pandemic I received a cancer diagnosis. I fought and survived and am able to share my story to encourage women to get through their stories. We all have a story! Some of our scars are more visible than others but we all have them and we are Survivors!

A few years ago, God placed a message on my heart - "Get Up, Dress Up, Never Give Up!" and I am honored to share my story of survival and tell you about my Jesus! If you would be interested in having me speak at an event, please give this speaker sheet to the event planner and let's talk! Feel free to reach out to discuss any other services I provide. This year I am intentionally playing out the words to the song "Goodness of God". His mercy has never failed me- All my life He has been faithful - He has led me through the fires and my darkest nights - He leads me and guides me - He is my provider and my anchor - and for all my life I will speak of the goodness of God!!

If you've stuck with me and read this far, thank you! YOU are the reason I do what I do! I am so grateful for each and every one of you who has been with me from the beginning and has continued to stay with me and encourage me along the way! I am also grateful to have so many new followers and I hope you will stick around to see what God has in store next!

Feel free to watch this short video explaining my passion further.

Be watching for all the spring & summer trends coming in the next few newsletters!
